ELMER HAD THE FRAME

And Needed Only the Material to Build a Horse.

HE HAILED FROM FORT WAYNE

And Was Going to Suit Himself Until He Struck the Humane Society Here. Stuck a Penknife in the Horse When It Didn't Go Fast Enough and Otherwise Tortured It—The Animal Killed.

If anybody thinks he can drive a bone pile under the guise of a horse through East Liverpool he might as well set his mind at rest on the subject. He can't do it.

A stranger found out to his sorrow that such was the case. Last evening there appeared in the city a wagon with a canvass covering shaped something like a house. Inside was a stranger, and he had everything arranged for a long trip. The wagon was provided with a partition and in one of the two rooms was a bed. In the other a chair and table reposed, while cooking utensils were scattered about in profusion. But perhaps the most attractive of all was a big revolver which laid near the table and within easy reach of the occupant of the turnout, who evidently thought he was going through a country inhabited by a blood thirsty tribe. But worst of all was the old white horse which hauled the outfit along the streets. The animal looked as though he had not tasted food for months, and the poor beast's skin was drawn so tightly over his ribs that it was an easy task to count each separate bone. It looked like a clear case of cruelty to animals, as the horse was staggering on his feet, and the stranger soon found it out.

The stranger gave his name as Elmer Darling, and said he had driven from Fort Wayne, Ind., and was on his way to Pittsburgh. He was arrested and locked up on a charge of cruelty, and if all stories are true punishment on that charge would have been too good for him. He is said to have had a stick with a penknife attached to the end and when the starved and weary animal lagged Darling would jab the instrument of torture into its back. This was proven by the marks on the horse's hips which were cut in an outrageous manner. The stranger is also in possession of a long piece of fishing pole which he used to tie some other article on the end and struck the dumb brute in the eyes. On agreement of the traveler to allow the horse to be killed and his wagon sold to pay the expenses of digging the grave, he was released and went his way.

This morning the stranger led his animal away from the livery stable, where it got its first square meal last night, covering it with a piece of canvass to prevent the breezes from playing a requiem between its ribs. With another broken down horse, it was shot. Its owner was given a dollar for digging graves for the pair of deceased brutes as the society thought this was sufficient to take him out of town.

It has been a long time since such a case of heartlessness has come before the notice of East Liverpool residents, and the fact that the stranger had a bible which he seemed very anxious to keep only made his case worse.

Wesley Duncan was the owner of a horse which Trustee Albright believed was ready for the grave. People had complained of that poor, old horse, and the humane society had seen enough to warrant the belief that it should die. This morning Albright secured the animal, and it was escorted to the river bank, where a bullet sent it to join the countless thousands of equines on the animal shore. The horse had long since outlived its usefulness and was ready for death.

ALL WANT MONEY.

The Long Green Involved in All New Cases Filed in Court.

New Lisbon, Sept. 7.—W. P. Clarke, of Wellsville, was sued this morning by Jasper N. Johnston for judgment on a promissory note, $310.39, with interest, being the amount asked. The note was given in November 1892, for $325, a part of which has been paid. A. V. Johnston filed the action.

Morgan T. Forney, of Leetonia, also filed an action on a promissory note against Laura Girber, asking for the sale of her property, lots 8 and 28 in Leetonia, in default of payment. The note originally only called for $30 and the sum asked for now is $23.44.

A petition in error to the circuit court was placed on file today in the case of Frank W. Silver versus the Globe Sewer Pipe company charging the court with error in setting aside last term the appointment of Thomas

H. Silver, receiver, on motion of the defendants, and in overruling the motion of the receiver to have the court require Fred H. Hendricks, the secretary of the company, show cause to the court why he should not be punished for contempt. This action was begun last January. Silver asking judgment for $1,400.21 due on promissory notes and also asking for a receiver, claiming that the board of directors were giving no attention to the business which was in the hands of employees without bond, who were collecting money and paying it out without any order of the board, which was all denied by the defendants. In their motion to vacate the appointment of the receiver.

Lot 862 in William Brunt's addition to East Liverpool, was transferred today from J. C. Kerr to William L. Smith for the consideration of $600.

Licenses were issued today for the marriage of William J. Barr and Mary Devaux, Emmet J. Hepburn and Gertie S. Tullis, John Barker and Minnie M. Stanley.

ENTHUSIASTIC

Are the Grand Army Boys Over the Pittsburgh Trip.

The meeting of General Lyon post last night demonstrated that the veterans are enthusiastic over the expected enjoyment of the Pittsburgh trip.

The lodge room was crowded with members, and a great amount of business connected with the journey was transacted. Each man was given a handsome marching badge of scarlet and gold, and 50 of crimson and silver were presented to the Relief corps. It was announced that the members will meet at the station Tuesday morning in time to catch the 5 o'clock train for Pittsburgh, and will assemble at Market and Water streets at 9:30 o'clock in that city for the parade. County markers will be extended along the line, and posts are ordered to take position in each county according to rank. Column will march by platoons, eight files deep and keep well closed up. Ohio will hold a social reunion in new city hall, and all comrades with their friends are invited. It is not known how many members General Lyon post will turn out, but all seem so enthusiastic that it is evident the number in line will not fall short of the expectation. Other business of importance was transacted by the post, and before the meeting was over it seemed certain that the Ceramic City will make a splendid showing in Pittsburgh.

The headquarters of Columbiana county Grand Army members will be at Second ward school building, rooms 12 and 14. The place can easily be reached by the Pleasant valley street cars.

CONVICTED OF EMBEZZLEMENT.

Fred Lodge in Probate Court—An Assignment.

Special to News Review.
NEW LISBON, Sept. 8.—Fred Lodge, who has been employed at the jail, was tried before Judge Young today and convicted of embezzlement. He was commissioned by the sheriff to collect $20 the other day which he did putting the money in his own pocket. The charge was at once made against him, and upon conviction he was fined $50, and given 30 days in the workhouse. Lodge is well known in East Liverpool.

Hugh McCoy made an assignment to D. J. Smith today transferring 60 acres of land in St. Clair township and three lots in Fredericktown as well as all his personal property. Hard times caused the farmer to go to the wall.

The Lowest Point on Record.

According to Captain Martin, one of the oldest and best rivermen on the Ohio and at present engineer on Davis island, the river was lower yesterday than at any time since it was known to white men. He has searched every obtainable record, and the records of the river are well kept, but he can find nothing which reaches the present low state. It will require days of steady rain before a boating stage is reached.

At Rochester a party have established a camp on a rock in the middle of the river. The rock is usually covered with water, but is now bare and dry.

A Long Trial.

The office of Squire Rose was the scene of a long legal battle today the contestants for the smile of justice being John Rinehart and the First National bank of Allegheny. The case is based upon a note, the bank being the plaintiff and is being fought by P. M. Smith for Rinehart and Will Hill for the bank.

PAYING BY THE PACK

Merchants See Deputy Collector Wolf.

THEY MADE LEGAL AFFIDAVIT

To the Number of Cards in Stock, and He Will Send them the Necessary Stamps—There Are About 8,000 Packs in the City, and Wellsville Has a Few.

An unassuming man with a quiet, yet business like appearance, is Deputy Revenue Collector Wolf, of Youngstown, but he understands his work, and leaves no details undone.

He arrived here yesterday for the purpose of invoicing the stock of playing cards in town, and taking the affidavit of dealers regarding the number of packs on hand. This is done according to the law as recorded in the new tariff bill, and woe be unto the merchant who fails to pay the tax assessed by the Democratic party. When the collector approached a dealer he carried out the law by compelling him to make affidavit of the number of packs of cards in stock, and such as were ready to pay him the cash, two cents for every pack, and receive the stamps when the money got to Cleveland. In this way he discovered that there are about 8,000 packs of cards awaiting purchasers, which shows that the city will pay Uncle Sam $160 for the present, and probably as much more during the remainder of the year. Collector Wolf also investigated the stock at Wellsville, and found that they play cards there as well as in this place. Cards are about the only article in this city which comes under the internal revenue law, there being no legal whisky manufactured here.

While Mr. Wolf had nothing to say of who is to pay the tax, the person who buys cards in the future will find that the retailer is not losing two cents on his profit. It was thought at first that the great printing concerns would see their customers clear of the new tax, but a dealer said today that he believed the public would soon be paying 12 cents for what has been sold for a dime. They can afford to sell the better grades at the old price and not put it on the consumer. It will require about 300,000 stamps to provide the dealers of the district, and of these 150,000 have already been sent out. Although there is a great rush it is believed that dealers can be supplied on demand.

William Malkin Dead.

William Malkin, a well known resident of Huston's addition died at an early hour this morning after an illness of two weeks, typhoid fever the result of a sunstroke being the cause. Deceased was born in Burslem, England, 37 years ago, and has been a resident of this city for 15 years. He leaves a wife and five children to mourn the loss of a faithful husband and indulgent parent. He was a member of the Mystic Circle, and was esteemed as an honest, upright man by all who knew him. The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Luxury for Coney.

A young man of this city who has been in Massillon on business returned last evening, and brings with him a great store of Coney information. He says that the "poor man's friend" has had a carriage built for his use during the campaign, which is one of the most luxurious vehicles in the country. Pneumatic tired wheels revolve on ball bearings, and the upholstery is fine enough to rest all but the mouth of the candidate after he delivers a speech. He saw Coney yesterday, and says he looks as fat and round and sleek as any of the millionaires he opposes.

Will Know in Two Weeks.

An Irondale man who was in town this morning gives the information that they expect to know all about the result of the reduction to be asked by the company in two weeks. A committee from the tin workers' organization met the manufacturers in Pittsburgh yesterday, and the proposition was made but not made public. The men will order a vote in the different lodges, and the result will be known in about two weeks, when a conference of both sides will again be held.

A Brakeman Pinched.

T. Lewis, a brakeman in the yards at Wellsville, was working in another employee's place on the pony last night when he met with an accident, which left him minus a couple of fingers. He was making a coupling at the freight depot here about 10 o'clock and in the darkness it was a difficult job. The bumpers caught the first two fingers of his right hand in their merciless grasp and the members were badly mangled. The railroad physician at Wellsville amputated the fingers about a half hour later.

How It Is Here.

"We are in the dark," said a well informed manufacturing potter when asked of the condition of the crockery trade. "At present trade is very good. By that I mean that the buyers are anxious to get ware. They want it in a hurry, and if not obtained at one place they hunt up another. How long this condition will continue I can't tell, nor can any other person. Trade may last as it is for a year, and it may not keep up for a month. The whole matter now depends on the importers, and if they drop prices we can not keep up with them."

The Temperance Meeting.

A great many persons were at the Grand Opera House last evening to hear Reverend McCrory, of Allegheny, lecture on the saloon question. The gentleman made a clear, strong argument in favor of his subject, and greatly pleased the audience by his splendid eloquence. The meeting was successful in every way, and the Women's Christian Temperance union feel that they have been given a good start in their winter work. Doctor McCrory is one of the most eloquent temperance speakers in the country.

From Colorado Mines.

Charles K. Wolfe, who went from Pennsylvania to Colorado about 18 years ago, is at present the guest of relatives in this city, and upon his return brought his brothers and sisters each a block of pure silver and gold, with their first names and date engraved thereon. The silver is from the Colorado mines and just as it came from Mr. Wolfe's smelting works in Georgetown, Col. Manager James E. Orr, of the Grand Opera House, is the fortunate possessor of one of the silver blocks.

Stepped on a Bottle.

Yesterday afternoon when Ben, the little son of Mills Bennett, was going home from school he ran to escape the shower, and was so unfortunate as to step upon a broken bottle. The sharp glass cut deep into the flesh, and the boy will remember that run for days yet unborn. The practice of throwing broken glass into the streets instead of having it hauled away with other garbage, should be discontinued. There are too many accidents from this source.

Playing in Wellsville.

The Kellys will play a game of ball with the Huntsman team in Wellsville this afternoon, but feeling that their opponents would be too much for them called upon this city for aid. McNutt, McShane, Percy Albright and Wheatley went down to help them out, and the result of the game can be foretold without much difficulty. The local players are always received well in Wellsville when playing with a Wellsville team.

Ordering Extra Cars.

Agent Adam Hill wants to see all the persons who go to the Pittsburgh encampment next week start from this city in seats, and will sell tickets Monday evening from 7 until 8 o'clock. He hopes by this means to obtain some knowledge of how many persons are going so that he can order the required number of cars. He will also be at the office to sell tickets Tuesday morning for the 5 o'clock train.

A Pleasant Party.

About 35 of Willis Davidson's young friends called at his home on Broadway last night to notify him that the anniversary of his birth was at hand. The party spent one of the most enjoyable evenings imaginable, dancing, music and an elegant supper causing the hours to pass unnoticed. Mr. and Mrs. Davidson presented their son with a handsome gold watch in remembrance of the event.

Ready For High Tent.

Everything is now ready for the meeting of the High Tent, Rechabites which begins Monday morning. E. C. Smith, high deputy ruler, Gloversville, N. Y., and John R. Mahonger, high secretary, Washington, arrived today. A temperance meeting will be held in the Opera House tomorrow night, and a parade at 5 o'clock Monday.

What They Are Worth.

The state board of appraisers under the Nicholas law have given out the values for taxation of the telephone and telegraph companies, and have listed the Central District, the company doing business here, at $69,000.

BICYCLE CLUB IS A GO

Local Riders Meet and Organize Last Night.

BUSINESS MEN ARE BACKERS

And Will Not See the Organization Fail For Lack of Cash—Club Quarters to Include Gymnasium, Bath and Reading Rooms—Another Meeting Tuesday Night.

The new bicycle club is an assured success.

Last night a number of the members of the organization met pursuant to call, in the council chamber, and talked over the matter. A temporary organization was effected. W. O. Hamilton was chosen president and Howard Kerr secretary and treasurer. Another meeting was called for next Tuesday evening at city hall to complete arrangements for the club.

A committee was appointed at the meeting last night to arrange for rooms for the club, and when the organization once gets down to business they expect to have a gymnasium, bath rooms and reading room in connection with their quarters. So far about 35 members have been placed on the list but a few more will be taken in and should hand their names to Secretary Howard Kerr, at his place of business in the Diamond, as soon as possible. A name will be chosen for the club at Tuesday's evening's meeting, and it is desired that every member be in attendance.

As far as finances are concerned, the new club will get along swimmingly. Several of the best known business men in the city have offered to back the club and see that it does not fail for lack of cash.

A Family Tree.

Dr. Charles Ogden is much interested in his family, and has in his possession a genealogical tree which marks the birth of every member. The foundation is plainly traced to John Betram in 1699. His home was in Philadelphia, and he is known far and wide as the first American who paid attention to the flora of America. He was a botanist of whom Doctor Ogden has just right to be proud. There is not the slightest break in the tree.

From Peoria.

Bob Slack is here from Peoria, Ill., visiting his father-in-law, John Robinson. Mr. Slack says the Peoria pottery, of which he is decorating shop foreman, has done little good for a year and is at present running in only a few departments.

The Mechanics at Play.

Two clubs of Mechanics are playing ball this afternoon on the West End ground, the trophy being a handsome regalia. The boys are doing their best and are playing an interesting game.

Only One Service.

At the First Presbyterian church tomorrow there will be but one service, and that in the morning. Reverend W. H. Lowry, of Wellsville, will preach.

Here on Business.

County Commissioner McIntosh was in this city this morning on business, and left this afternoon for New Lisbon.

CHURCH CHIMES.

Reverend Knox, of the Second United Presbyterian church, will preach at Chester tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Men's meeting in the Young Men's Christian association rooms tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock. Address by a prominent member of the grand tent. Order of Rechabites. All young men are invited.

Rev. A. K. Knox will preach in the Second United Presbyterian church tomorrow morning and evening. Subject, 11 a. m., "The Supreme Measure for Man;" 7:45 p. m., "The Danger of Tampering With Sin."

First United Presbyterian church—Preaching services at 11 a. m., and 7:30 p. m.; Sabbath school in the church at 9:45 a. m., and in the chapel at 3 p. m.; Young People's meeting at 6:30 p. m. The public are cordially invited to all these services.

Church of Christ—At 11 a. m., the pastors subject will be "Two Worlds." At 7:30 p. m., he will speak on "The Bible Doctrine of Immortality." Sunday school at 9:30 a. m.; mission school at Gardendale at 2:30 p. m. At 3:30 p. m., Elder G. W. Montgomery, of Chicago, will speak at Gardendale. Junior Endeavor at the church at 5 p. m.; Senior Endeavor at 6:30 p. m. All cordially invited.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., SATURDAY, SEPT. 8.

REPUBLICAN TICKET.

Secretary of State, S. M. TAYLOR.

Judge of Supreme Court, JOHN A. SHANK.

Member of Board of Public Works, CHARLES J. GRACE.

Commissioner of Schools, O. J. CARSON.

Congressman, R. W. TAYLOR.

Prosecuting Attorney, C. S. SPEAKER.

Commissioner, SAMUEL RYE.

Infirmary Director, C. D. FILLON.

For President, WILLIAM MCKINLEY, Of Ohio.

THE handwriting is on the wall this year with a vengeance. Democracy is doomed, and the next congress will contain a Republican majority.

It is amusing to see the Democrats of the district quarrel over the congressional nomination. It is as if two canines fought for a bone, innocent of meat.

SINCE Arctic relief expeditions are so popular, why don't the Democrats organize a party to sail north in search of votes. They can be found on the outside of the circle better than in this district.

THEY are talking of booming Cleveland for president again, a little matter in which the Ohio branch of the party can do nothing if they would be in line with their villainous condemnation of Foraker when he wanted to be governor the last time.

WILLIE WILSON, he who is supposed to know something of political economy and superintended the formation of a tariff bill, has gone to Europe to obtain a much needed rest. Meanwhile the men thrown out of employment by Willie's bill are resting without going to Europe.

COXEY'S CAMPAIGN.

When Coxey starts with his political circus next week, the beginning of his end can be recorded. While his system of campaigning will be the most unique on record, it can also be counted as the most senseless, and can not but produce a great avalanche of votes against the commonwealth if the people of the Eighteenth have not all gone mad. The three or four circus wagons, a brass band, the big tent,

and Coxey as the great Bengal tiger,

with a thousand and one stripes about his body, will be marched into every township under the sun but Coxeyism

will be reviled and cursed to suit the depraved taste of the quarryman. While there will not be three rings in the circus it will be noticeable that the number would not approach the circular machinery in the cerebellum of the commonwealth. When this begins to revolve the nonsense which Coxey pretends to believe will pour forth as cheap prints from an ancient loom. The general public will know how little Coxey is versed in the great principles of political economy, but will be treated with innocent fun by seeing the great clown of the political ring. The Coxey meetings may serve as a pleasant place for young people to gather as at a country picnic. They will prove to the people who have read

much and seen nothing of the general that his doctrine is the greatest lot of rot ever concocted, and will meet the demands of a few who are opposed to the world in the way of condemnation, for he it known Coxey never praises anything or anyone. Beyond these purposes the meetings will teach the public to realize that a demagogue may receive a vast amount of free advertising and be nothing more than a clown seeking a species of notoriety. The beginning of the Coxey campaign means the beginning of the Coxey end.

HARD BLOWS AT POP.

Georgia Democrats Hold a

Mass-Meeting at Atlanta.

SMITH AND CRISP MAKE SPEECHES

Both of Them Strike Hard at Populists

and Their Theories—The Secretary Declares Against Free Silver, While

Crisp Says He Favors It.

ATLANTA, Ga., Sept. 8.—The mass-

meeting of Democrats held in this city was a big affair. The principal features were the speeches of Speaker Crisp, reviewing the work of congress, and of

Secretary Hoke Smith against the free coinage of silver. Speaker Crisp declared his personal preference for the free coinage of silver. Much enthusiasm was displayed.

Secretary Smith, during the course of his speech, said that the cotton states and international exposition would prove of great assistance in attracting attention to the resources of the south,

but the attention of capital once secured, its confidence must also be won,

and it was therefore of the utmost importance to the future welfare of the state that in the coming election the people of Georgia should show the world that the wild theories of the Populists had no foothold among them.

The secretary then reviewed the history of silver coinage and declared that the unlimited coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1 would result in the depreciation of our currency and commercial disaster, business wreck and ruin

would be precipitated.

The recent financial stringency he partly attributed to the Republican administration. Mr. Cleveland retired leaving a surplus in the treasury of $230,348,000. Four years of Republican misrule reduced the surplus to $12,-

450,000, with charges fixed for the ensuing year amounting in round numbers to $55,000,000 in excess of the revenue.

But this was not the only cause of the depression. Financial panics may be expected about every 20 years, judging from the past history of this country, and one was due in the early nineties.

The Baring failure in London was also largely responsible for the demoniza-tion of business; but the fears of financial disaster were intensified by the fact that the government, already carrying an enormous volume of currency intrinsi-cally worth less than its par value, could not stand the additional annual purchase of $60,000,000 provided for by the Sherman act, and maintain its silver at par. The repeal of the purchasing clause of the Sherman bill stopped the panic, and where money could not be had at any price in the summer of 1893,

it can now be readily obtained at low rates of interest.

"And yet," said he, "with the terrible experience of last year fresh in our minds, it is proposed to open the mints

without limit to the flow of silver that would certainly produce silver monometallism. The fear of silver monometallism materially contributed to last year's panic. What would happen with free and unlimited coinage of silver which would absolutely produce such a result?"

Mr. Smith closed his speech with an appeal to the voters of the state to remain true to the Democratic principle of sound money inaugurated by Jef-ferison, supported by Jackson and preserved by Cleveland.

Speaker Crisp then addressed the audience and confined himself principally to detailing the work of the Democratic congress, which he later summarized as follows: "We have repealed the Mc-Kinley law; we have greatly reduced taxation; we have made living cheaper;

we have made all money taxable; we have taxed surplus incomes; we have restored freedom of elections; we have reduced public expenditures, and we have declared unyielding hostility to all trusts and monopolies organized for the oppression of the people."

Contrary to the views as expressed by Secretary Smith, he declared that he was in favor of the free coinage of silver and that the silver question was not settled yet.

He paid his respects to the Populists

as follows: "Our Populist friends want to buy the railroads, the telegraph lines and the telephones. The thousands of millions of dollars necessary to do this does not stagger them. The great army of officeholders necessary to manage and protect them. Our Populist leaders deal with millions as ordinary people deal with dollars and as for offices, they all want them."

Confessed to the Crime.

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., Sept. 8.—Milton

Gross, the outlaw of Lincoln county,

who was charged with various crimes,

the last of which was the shooting of Albert Keyser a few nights ago, was arrested in the woods by a posse and taken to the county seat, where he was lodged in jail. He confessed to the shooting of Keyser, and it is said, will implicate a number of others.

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., Sept. 8.—The Republican conference of the Sixteenth congressional district, after taking 70

ballots without result, adjourned to meet Wednesday morning at the Updegrave hotel. A. C. Houtkins has withdrawn. Lewis and Packer each have 6 votes.

IRON TRADE REVIEW.

Appearance Indicate a Period of Continued Activity.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 8.—The following is a statement of the iron market made by the Iron Trade Review: Indications continue to appear that a period of sustained activity is ahead for blast furnaces, rolling mills and steel works; influences affecting prices are not so clearly defined. In the case of Western Pennsylvania and Ohio furnaces for example, the price of coke is not settled more than 60 days ahead in most instances and a higher price for furnace labor is likely to be paid at some plants.

These considerations cause a hesitancy

on the part of sellers to enter into contracts for long deliveries.

Taking the market in its length and breadth the feeling of careful observers is that nothing like a boom need be looked for in any direction, and on the other hand no such slump in raw material prices, as some buyers are prophesying, but a well sustained volume of business and in the main steady prices.

Evidently a Murder Case.

BUYERS, O., Sept. 8.—H. L. Ricks of Caledonia, who has been making an analysis of the stomach of Thomas

Sherrock, in his report says he finds nearly four per cent of arsenic, 14 grains.

But that as arsenic is largely used in embalming fluid he cannot say that this caused the death of Sherrock. The under-taker says the per cent of arsenic found was more than is used in the state.

He says that he did not puncture the

NAVAL VETS OPEN THE WEEK

By Putting Their Fleet Into Commission Tomorrow Morning at 8 O'clock. Arrangements Complete For The Ex-Prisoners' Parade Wednesday.

Pittsburg, Sept. 8.—G. A. R. men, their families and their friends and other visitors are pouring into Pittsburg by the hundreds. The incoming trains are loaded with passengers, while the depots are alive with the hurry and bustle of rapidly increasing travel.

The city is rapidly taking on its gala air and the decorations are magnificent.

The encampment week will open tomorrow morning at 8 a. m., when the flag of the Naval Veteran fleet, which will consist of four squadrons, will be put in commission. The headquarters train, from New York, will arrive tonight at midnight.

Admiral Osborn will run up his pennant on his flagship, the W. W. O'Neil, tomorrow morning.

There will be divine services in the Smithfield Street M. E. church to-morrow evening, which all the naval veterans will attend. The veterans' parade on Monday will start from Water street at 8 a. m. The ninth annual convention will be held in the room of the Allegheny County Bar association beginning at 1 p. m. The "dog watch" will be held in old City hall at 8 p. m., and will be one of the brilliant events of the encampment. The old hall will be transformed into a representation of a ship's deck.

Arrangements have been completed for the parade of the ex-prisoners of war next Wednesday. The parade will start on Water street at 2 p. m., and start at 3 p. m., marching over the route of the G. A. R. procession, already published. These veterans will be escorted by the Eighteenth and Fourteenth regiments and Battery B. N. G. P., the Sons of Veterans and Swifts' Boys' brigade, 100 strong, Captain E. M. McCombs in command. Previously the ex-prisoners will march to the Smithfield grounds to the federal building, from the steps of which Judge F. H. Collier will present, and National Commander C. G. Davis will receive, a banner presented to the association by the Woman's Auxiliary of the ex-Prisoners of War association.

On Mt. Washington, at the head of the Castle Shannon incline, a large force of men has been hard at work for the past week getting the camp of the Fighting Sons of Veterans in order. The fireworks display of next Thursday night will take place on the Monongahela opposite the wharf. A national salute will be fired at 8 p. m., and the display proper will begin at 8:30 and continue an hour. It is calculated that 100,000 people may congregate upon the wharf, and the display may be seen advantageously from the surrounding hills.

Arrangements are complete for the river excursion of next Friday. It has been decided to invite the delegates to the national encampment and their ladies, 200 representatives of the women's organizations, 50 representatives of the Naval Veterans' association, the city officials and city council, representatives of the press, both local and foreign, and the executive council.

Workers Agree to Accept.

Pittsburg, Sept. 8.—The tin plate manufacturers and the workers failed to definitely agree on the tin plate scale, which must be readjusted on account of the tariff reductions. After a conference of 12 hours the workers agreed to accept the ultimatum of the manufacturers and put it to a vote of the workers. It will be at least two weeks before the vote is in and the case ready to come up again.

May Erect a Monument to Rathbone.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—The supreme lodge of the Knights of Pythias is nearing the close of its session. A movement has been started to erect a monument to Major Rathbone, the founder of the order, who is buried at Utica, N. Y. Washington lodges will endeavor to raise a fund to purchase the hall which was the birth place of the fraternity.

Twenty Anarchists Coming.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—The bureau of immigration has forwarded to the several commissioners of immigration at the various ports of the United States detailed descriptions of 26 anarchists recently expelled from France and believed to be en route to the United States.

Comte de Paris Sinking.

LONDON, Sept. 8.—Inquiries made at Stowe house elicit the information that Comte de Paris is not expected to live much longer. The Empress of Russia has tendered the sympathy of herself and the czar to the family of the comte.

The Bomb Did No Damage.

TURIN, Sept. 8.—In the Cafe San Carlan an anarchist named Salero exploded a bomb, which created much consternation but injured no one. Salero was arrested.

Russian Barley Cheap.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 8.—Considerable excitement was caused on the floor of the Corn and Flour exchange by an offer of Russian barley for feeding purposes at 1 cent a pound, duty paid.

Ordered Back to Bluefields.

COLON, Sept. 8.—The United States warship Columbia has been ordered to convey the American refugees at Port Antonio back to Bluefields, Mosquito territory.

Howard Gould Offers a Prize.

LONDON, Sept. 8.—Howard Gould has offered a cup valued at $300 to start the Bay club contests for first class yachts in 1900.

Died From Swallowing a Fly.

St. LOUIS, Sept. 8.—Eugene Dickson, a child, swallowed a fly and died from the effects.

POLICE COMMISSIONERS GUILTY.

Dr. Parkhurst Says They Know of the Corrupt Practices Among Officers.

New York, Sept. 8.—Before Rev. Dr. Parkhurst embarked from the steamship Germania he talked freely to your correspondent concerning the results of the police trials in this city. The dismissal of four captains and a greater number of sergeants and wardmen, Dr. Parkhurst said, was in the interest of reform, but, he continued, "I do not think that they were the most guilty ones in the department. The police commissions are the arch criminals. Of course I do not refer to the commissioners who have recently been appointed. I speak directly, though, of Martin, Sheehan and McClave. These men must have known of the corrupt practices of the captains they have disciplined before I did. If they did not they were negligent in the performance of their duty."

"Are you ready to present more evidence when the Lexow committee meets again?" the reporter asked.

"Yes, indeed," replied the doctor. "The nature of it I am not prepared to disclose now, but you may say that I think it will be more startling than any heretofore brought out."

The blame for existing conditions in the police department Dr. Parkhurst laid at the door of Tammany, and the remedy is in a general revolt of citizens irrespective of party, against domination by Tammany Hall.

Another Cronin Case.

CASSAPOLIS, Mich., Sept. 8.—Stone lake is to be dynamited in the search for the body of Dr. A. B. Cronin, who disappeared mysteriously from this village a week ago, the latest theory and one which seems supported by evidence, is that he was carried to the shore of the lake in a box, placed upon a wagon in charge of two unknown men, and that there was a struggle and outcries, after which the strange wagon drove rapidly away northward.

Dragged a Mile by a Horse.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., Sept. 8.—A son of a Valentine Rathbone tied the hind legs of a spirited horse around his own neck in sport. The animal, frightened, dashed away, dragging the boy a mile over rocks, logs and through a stream, inflicting injuries which will prove fatal.

A Big Apple Crop.

BETHLEHEM, Pa., Sept. 8.—The apple crop in Lower Saucon township is immense this year. The fruit is a glut in the market. An oldtime cider mill on the Saucon creek, at Hallertown, is being operated day and night. The road leading to the mill is crowded with farmers' wagons awaiting their turns to unload.

They Sue For $620,000.

DULUTH, Minn., Sept. 8.—William and John McKinley of this city, and James Charnley of Chicago, have sued the Lake Superior Consolidated iron mines for $620,000. They charge that fraud and misrepresentation were used to induce them to sell the McKinley mine to the Consolidated company.

A Postoffice Clerk Under Arrest.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—Postoffice Inspector Moore of the Philadelphia division has caused the arrest of Louis A. Dronner, general delivery and stamp clerk at Williamsport, Pa., for stealing ordinary mail with valuable contents. Dronner made a full confession and has been held in $2,000 bail.

His Gait Too Swift.

ATLANTA, Sept. 8.—Atlanta's business circles have been shocked by the arrest of Edwin C. Hooks, cashier of the freight department of the Seaboard Air Line railroad, charged with the embezzlement of $5,000 of the company's money. He has been leading a fast life for six months.

Sealers Accept the Offer.

OTTAWA, Ont., Sept. 8.—Sir Charles Tupper, minister of fisheries, has received a message from Victoria, B. C., that at a meeting of the sealers the $125,000 offered by the United States government in settlement of claims for seizures was unanimously accepted.

The Liberty Bell Won't Be There.

CHICAGO, Sept. 8.—George S. Knapp, manager of the Columbia Liberty bell, says the contemplated trip of the bell to Pittsburg has been postponed owing to the impossibility of getting the bell ready in time on account of the weather.

Cholera in Holland.

AMSTERDAM, Sept. 8.—Three fresh cases of cholera have been reported here. At Maestricht, Zaandam, Kralingen and Alblasdand, respectively, one death from cholera has occurred.

Weather Forecast.

Showers; southeast winds.

UNFEELING WOMEN.

MANY WHO ARE SO CALLED ARE GROSSLY MISUNDERSTOOD.

Women Whom the Present Generation Does Not Appreciate Because It Does Not Understand Them—The Other Type of Woman Who Is Always Affable.

A witty and sympathetic man once said to me, "I would rather marry a woman who looked feelings and had none than a woman who had feelings and looked none." Of course the saying came more from his wit than his sympathy, but I could not help feeling that there were moments when I could agree with him, although I have known the value and the services of the woman with no feelings to be underestimated.

My daughters have a friend—a woman only a little past girlhood—whose company is more sought after and relished than that of almost any one I know. She has admirers by the score and acquaintances everywhere, and no wonder, for she is cultivated, always cheerful and will listen to and rally the poorest talker. She is asked to everything in the shape of a feast, for she is the amusement and relaxation of whoever may be about her. At the same time, whenever her praises are sounded, the eulogy winds up with the inevitable and disheartening tag, "After all, you know, she has no feelings."

And this is perfectly true. Quick and comprehending as is her smile and graceful as is her glance while one is talking to her, there is always the conviction that not a trace of real interest is involved. If she only had a heart, the girl would be an angel.

I like the old fashioned word. And when I have been alone with her I have often wanted to say, "My dear, do be an angel!" But she has no heart. If she were to marry a foreigner and go abroad to live, she would leave us all without a moment's regret. So her friends are vexed with her want of feeling and warn the world against her.

And this is what seems to me unjust. Take this girl as she is. Whether it is her nature or not, she never refuses the challenge to be agreeable; whatever her own plans and likings are, she never betrays impatience when they are crossed. Her companion may be plain, awkward and tiresome, but her eye and her gay little joke are never dulled for that reason. In fine, she may be the incarnation of the light which shines, but does not warm, yet while she keeps a whole circle in good humor by her wit, as she does, it is a poor return to gird at her.

Again, and speaking now of a widely different type, I can call to mind older women, often only the survivors of a more rigid era—exact, severe, stern, unbending and ruling their households with a rod of iron. How little this generation understands them! How little merit it allows to the implicit faith in duty, the untiring devotion to work, the almost fanatic hatred of waste and self-indulgence and the Spartan maxims of life in which they were brought up and which they still observe. What has become of our eyes that we cannot see the beauty of such lives? Why do we no longer recognize their value? These are not the women who have feelings, but look none. They are without feelings at all, according to the standards of our new, diversified and exacting society.

I hear young girls saying that their grandmothers or aunts, or what you please, don't understand them, and really I think that many older people than these schoolgirls make just the same absurd complaint. I can appeal with safety to every one. Who has not known one of these same stern women almost bring the dead to life by her powers of nursing, or confront single handed and maintain her family on a beggar's pittance, or save a falling household by simple economy and hard work? I shall be told that all these things are admitted, but that is just the point—they are not. If they were, the cry of "no feelings" would never be raised, out of every shade.

I know an old lady who has had the misfortune to live a long life and to see all her descendants grow up unable to "understand" her. She is of the old, unsparring sort, and she, artistic, original, clever, modern people, have no place for her either in their theories or their interests. With these her notions can scarcely be expected to agree either, yet the complaints come not from her, but from them. They are not complaints in words. They are complaints crystallized into entire disregard for the old school, which does not, as it cannot, wholly sympathize with them. It seems to take an outsider, like myself, to see what I do see—that without this erect, white haired ancestress, who is apparently so separate from them all, wives and husbands both would have to teach themselves the fortitude which she communicates merely by her presence. Their households would be dragging on without the strong axes, so to speak, which she put in almost unnoticed for each newly married couple, and the whole family, now held together in an unusual vigor, would soon fall apart and be dispersed.

I believe there must be many such cases. I have the deepest respect for these strong, unbending characters who do not conceal their utter intolerance of our self centered modern methods.—May Johnstone in Ladies' Home Journal.

Timber In Water.

Seasoned timber is but little liable to decay under the influence of a dry atmosphere and will resist decomposition for an indefinite period when kept totally submerged in water. The piles of old London bridge, driven 800 years before, were found to be in good condition when the new bridge was erected in 1559, and those which served as the foundation for Trajan's bridge over the Danube, A. D. 105, are said to be still visible at low stages of water.—Toronto Mail.

LOCAL BREVITIES

S. M. Welch has removed his household goods from Steubenville to this city.

John H. Kenney has sold out his business to Ernest W. Johnson and the latter took charge yesterday.

The Potter's Supply company's works have been running night and day and still the rush of business continues.

The First Methodist Episcopal church is increasing its debt $7,000 in order to pay for the improvements now being made.

The bad condition of the gutter coverings at the corner of Second and Union streets is causing many kicks from drivers. Repairs should be made at once.

Will George, an employee of the Thompson Knob works, is seriously ill at the home of his mother, Mrs. Jennie George, Second street, with an attack of fever.

The residence grounds of Col. W. H. Vodrey are being enclosed by a handsome wall of cut stone. The wall is being constructed to face College and Robinson streets.

The driver of Hassey's wagon was thrown from the vehicle yesterday afternoon and somewhat injured. He was able to work today and his hurts will not prove serious.

J. A. McPherson, who has been in Kansas for several years and visited relatives in this city recently, left yesterday afternoon for Chicago, where he will open a grocery store.

Captain Galley and wife bade farewell to their many friends in the Salvation army here last night, and left this morning for Cleveland. The new captain is expected here Wednesday.

The rain yesterday showed the great need of paving several alleys where filth accumulates and council will no doubt be overwhelmed with petitions from property owners in various parts of the city.

During the storm yesterday afternoon a number of telephones in the city felt the force of the electrical disturbances, and were burned out. The storm last night also affected a few. All were repaired this morning.

A wagon loaded with telephone poles being hauled to the city lot at the corner of Third and Market streets, broke down in the Diamond yesterday evening and created considerable excitement by drawing a large crowd.

The board of health did not meet last night, the only members putting in an appearance being Messrs. Purinton and Chambers, with Clerk Grosshans and Health Officer King. A special meeting will probably be called next week.

Each week the new school building goes a little higher, and at the end of every day it seems to be growing better looking. The bricklayers are now at work on the second story, and the stone cutters are putting in all their time on the trimmings.

The ceramic department in the Ohio State university is already proving an attraction, and three East Liverpool boys will leave Monday morning for Columbus to study the art. They are Thomas Ferguson, Remus Shenkle and George Simms, and five Wellsville boys will accompany them to the institution on the same mission.

Complaint is made that a number of boys, who are usually found in gangs throughout the city, make it a practice of buying beer by the keg, and then adjourning to some shady hill side spending Saturday afternoon and Sunday in getting as drunk as the supply on hand will permit. Persons in the various neighborhoods are not pleased with the reprehensible practice.

Several of the most prominent residents of this city have spoken in no uncertain tones during the past few days with regard to a street sweeper. They believe that such an improvement is badly needed, and that the cost would not be noticed by the city. As one citizen remarked last night: "I appreciate the efforts of council in being economical, but the city must be given every possible chance to improve."

When Secretary Davies, of the street railway, was here this week, President Berg had a talk with him concerning those much talked of gutters on Second street. He seemed to think that the city had the right end of the argument, and manifested a disposition to have them put in good order as soon as possible. The track between this city and Wellsville has been much improved by being made smoother during the summer.

The rain of yesterday afternoon was received with every manifestation of delight all over the city, but there was a string to the happiness because it did not last longer. The streets, however, got a dampening, and some filth was washed away, but there is still enough to keep the weather clerk busy if he becomes so kind as to manifest a disposition in that direction. More moisture is expected by the signal service, and will likely be around before the end of next week, although we have been taught not to expect too much in the way of rain.

Capt. J. M. Ogden, of Scotland, Ind., is the guest of his brother, Doctor Ogden, of this city. When a young man the gentleman entered the service, and after winning a name for himself went west to locate. He has many friends in the city who have not forgotten their old comrade and boyhood companion.

While in Chicago, Mr. Charles L. Kahler, a prominent shoe merchant of Des Moines, Iowa, had quite a serious time of it. He took such a severe cold that he could hardly talk or navigate, but the prompt use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy cured him of his cold so quickly that others at the hotel who had bad colds followed his example and half a dozen persons ordered it from the nearest drug store. They were profuse in their thanks to Mr. Kahler for telling them how to cure a bad cold so quickly. For sale by A. H. Bulger, Druggist.

—Frank W. McCain, wife and daughter, of Gallipolis, are visiting at the residence of Warren McCain, this city. Mr. McCain will accompany General Lyon post to Pittsburgh.

Irving W. Larimore, physical director of Young Men's Christian association Des Moines, Iowa, says he can conscientiously recommend Chamberlain's Pain Balm to athletes, gymnasts, bicyclists, foot ball players and the profession in general for bruises, sprains and dislocations; also for soreness and stiffness of the muscles. When applied before the parts become swollen it will effect a cure in one half the time usually required. For sale by A. H. Bulger, Druggist.

—Mrs. Clem McQuillen left this morning for a visit with relatives in Salineville. Mr. McQuillen will leave this evening for a few days' visit in the same town.

A. M. Bailey, a well-known citizen of Eugene, Oregon, says his wife has for years been troubled with chronic diarrhoea and used many remedies with little relief until she tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which has cured her sound and well. Give it a trial and you will be surprised at the prompt relief it affords. Twenty-five and 50 cents a bottle for sale by A. H. Bulger, Druggist.

SHE SPOKE TOO SOON.

Discovering That She Had Made a Mistake, She Apologized.

In front of Trinity church a stylishly dressed young woman stepped from the sidewalk directly in front of a team of heavy horses attached to a well loaded truck. She was endeavoring to catch the eye of a cable car gripman and did not see the rapidly moving truck bearing down upon her. Passersby expected to see her ground to earth, but one of two fashionably appearing young fellows with slightly dubious proclivities rushed to the curb, and lifting the woman by the arms quickly swung her around and landed her out of danger on the sidewalk.

She, all unconscious of the vigorous predicament, turned on the young man sharply with an indignant "How dare you, sir!" and looked as if she were contemplating an assault on him with her parasol.

The young fellow looked surprised, and then, taking off his hat, bowed and, with an "Excuse me, madam," passed on by her parasol.

She turned toward the street again and for the first time observed the truck, which now stood in her path. The driver of this calmly remarked: "That dude saved your life, lady. Why don't you scratch his eyes out?"

The woman, for the first time realizing her narrow escape, hurried after the rapidly disappearing youths, who had nearly reached Reister street by that time. Touching her rescuer's arm, she quickly apologized for her rudeness and thanked him for his timely act.

"Don't mention it, please. The pleasure is entirely mine, I assure you," was the response. Two hats were doffed, and the blushing woman was left on the sidewalk with a humiliating sense of her previous rudeness.

"Beastly queer things these girls are. Harvey," said one to the other as they disappeared in the arcade leading to the L. station. —New York Advertiser.

LOOK HERE, HOUSEKEEPERS

You are Looking For Methods of Saving in True Economy.

Every good housekeeper or head of a family knows that it is true economy to purchase the very best goods for the table that the market affords. Inferior goods are not cheap at any price. The best are the cheapest in the long run, from every standpoint, including those of pleasure and health.

The history of the grocery business in East Liverpool demonstrates the fact that Barnes, the grocer, in the Diamond, makes it his aim to secure the very best goods in every department, and that he has been thoroughly successful in his aim is demonstrated by the immense trade he has built up in the city.

Barnes also aims to furnish best goods at the most reasonable figures, and hundreds of well-pleased patrons assert that he has also succeeded in his aim in this particular.

When you want the nicest and freshest groceries, butter, eggs, teas, coffees, spices, and in fact everything common to a first-class grocery. When you want the nicest fruits and nuts, foreign and domestic, at very reasonable prices, of course you will call on BARNES, the Grocer, In the Diamond.

LAUFENBERGER,

Merchant Tailor, Market street, is turning out the handsomest dress and business suits ever seen in East Liverpool. Prices are very reasonable, goods guaranteed, garments perfectly fitting, workmanship unexcelled. When ready to order a suit, call on Fred Laufenger. It will pay you to do so.

THE PITTSBURG EXPOSITION.

It Will Eclipse Anything Ever Held in Pennsylvania.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Sept. 6.—The sixth annual exposition of Western Pennsylvania opened Wednesday evening for a season of 40 days. Judging from the attendance so far the people believe the claim made by the managers that this years' exposition will eclipse anything ever held in Pennsylvania. The infusion of new blood into the management wrought a wonderful change and Pittsburgh now has an exposition of which it may well feel proud.

There are so many new, unique and novel exhibits this year that it is almost impossible to begin to describe them. The features of the show are the music and art gallery. The former is being furnished by New York and a chorus of 234 trained voices. Nearly all the paintings are medal winners from the World's Fair and European salons. Among the great works is Munkacsy's $44,000 painting of "The last hours of Mozart." It is owned by General Russell A. Alger, who will be at the Exposition during the G. A. R. Encampment. Another celebrated picture is Havenden's "Bringing Home the Bride," Vinoh's famous "Poppy Field" also has a conspicuous place and attracts much attention.

Among the new exhibits and there are over 50 new ones, are the working models of two of the Frick Company coke plants, a model of the Pabst brewery, and old fashioned grist mill by the Marshall, Kennedy Company, a complete printing and daily newspaper plant, a cork screw making machine, around which many fishermen who use such an article are found nightly, all kinds of electrical appliances by the Westinghouse Company, an exhibit of fresh meats in a plate glass refrigerator, the process of ingrain lumber and manufactured aluminum.

Among other things printed in the building at the newspaper exhibit is "Daily Exposition Tidings." The type will be set by the latest improved type setting machine, the Empire. It picks the type out of a glass case and after the type is used it is distributed again. The distribution is very odd. The type is dumped into a hopper, a crank is turned and falls into the case where it remains until used. This exhibit will be made by the J. M. Kelly Printing Company, and the new newspapers are made and printed will be shown daily. "Exposition Daily Tidings" after next Monday will take the place of the usual program.

Another exhibit around which crowds are found nightly is the display of Edison's latest invention, the Kinetoscope. It shows photographs taken by wire and among other things are many views of the Corbett-Mitchell fight.

The grand chorus of 354 voices will be heard every Monday night which will be known as classical night. Director Innes' band consists of 65 of the best musicians of the world and is the largest military band in existence. It will give concerts afternoon and evening. The doors are open at 9 a. m. and will close at 10:30 p. m. General Manager Keating is now arranging with the railroad officials to run excursion trains to the Exposition after the G. A. R. Encampment. Notwithstanding the large increased expense incurred by the management securing new attractions and exhibits the price of admission still remains at 25 cents.

One Way of Saving 5 Cents.

I heard a good story that brings out Russell Sage's laying up for a rainy day hobby. It seems that Russell seldom if ever misses the directors' dinner, spread every day in the Western Union building, after which he is not averse to an inexpensive cigar, and just here it is not amiss to suggest that Russell should smoke tobies, which would furnish his tobacco solace for the small sum of three for five, which is just in his line. While at the cigar stand, fishing around his not at all fashionable costume for the requisite coin, an acquaintance arrived and planked down 15 cents for an imported weed. The cunning old manipulator of the destinies of Wall street lambs saw an opportunity here to make a turn in the cigar line. Producing a dime, he laid it beside the acquaintance's 15 cents and then suggested to said acquaintance to order two for a quarter. As the brand the gentleman wanted retailed for 15 cents straight or two for a quarter the foxy Russell secured a 15 cent for 10 cents. This is a lesson in economy, so there's no use saying anything about the other phase of the deal. —Pittsburgh Dispatch.

The Light of the "Lightning Bug."

Of late the naturalists have been losing sleep and filling a great deal of valuable magazine space in discussing the cause that produce the light emitted by fireflies. As is generally the case where much study and investigation is involved there is a wide difference of opinion. One school of scientists trace the phenomenon to the nervous system of the insect; another to his respiration, while a third school have prepared an article of 5,000 words to prove that the light is entirely dependent upon the poor bug's circulation. The burden of evidence seems to be in favor of those who claim that the luminous tissue is made up of fat globules, which are incessantly acted upon by the oxygen of the air and the phosphorous of the creature's body. —St. Louis Republic.
